

RALLY IN SEVENTH WINS OUT FOR COLTS

Revelle Holds Locals Safe in All But Stretch Inning, When Five Hits Bring Home Five Runs--Luck Plays Material Part in Victory.

BY GUS MALBERT.

Everything went gloriously for Dutch Revelle yesterday until the stretch period, when he lost his ability to fool and was slammed for a quintet of bingles, good for eight bases, and gave one pass, the net result being just five runs and the game, the Shipbuilders scoring a total of but four.

Steve Griffin took every precaution to win. The two defeats in Petersburg nerved him for the task. He used three of his fingers, Preacher Perryman starting, while Eby, a youngster who has just arrived and who made a most favorable impression, and Harvey Bussey, came in the order named. Jack Grim Let Dutch go the full route because there was no chance of saving the game after the fatal seventh.

Perryman did not measure up to the form he showed in the game last Tuesday, when he let the Goobers down with three hits and lost. He was unsteady and pitched himself into holes continually. The four runs to the credit of the visitors were made during the six innings he worked, and the youngster Eby gets credit for winning, though he was relieved in the ninth after walking the first two men to face him. The Grimites came perilously near scoring in that ninth. One was down when Eby gave the transportation referred to, and Bussey choked the hassocks by walking Brown. To make up for it he struck out Lake, sent in to hit for Revelle, and Bates, a rather nifty performance.

Overcome Four-Run Lead.

After Newport News had accumulated a nice lead of four runs there were those present who gave up the contest and thought that the Shipbuilders would do what they have been doing successfully all season--trim the Colts. Griffin had different ideas, and to steady Perryman substituted John Mac for Rogers who started as Perry's battery mate. It helped some, but the fact of the matter was that Perry wasn't quite fit for the task assigned him and he was given an opportunity to rest after the sixth. Steve will probably work him in one of the games tomorrow.

Clean hitting scored the first duo of runs for Griffin. They came in the third when Bates slashed into a curve and drove the ball nearly to the stand in centerfield for three bases scoring Brown who was on second from his hit to Griffin and Revelle's sacrifice. Bates scored on Rogers' sacrifice fly to Eby and Eby's sacrifice fly to Bates. He tried to go to second on the out and was caught, ending the inning. Another score was added in the fourth, when Mattie struck to deep center, stole second, and on Rogers' poor throw, advanced another sack while Carney was grounding out from McComas to Riley and counted on Lusk's hit to center. The last score for Griffin came in the fifth and resulted from Carney's error on a hard chance. Revelle managed to get a fluke double between left and center. Then Buck Hooker hit to deep right. Carney by a splendid run got under the ball, but dropped it just when he had it in his hands, Revelle crossing.

Just One Bad Inning.

In justice to Dutch it should be said that in every inning but the seventh he had the Colts completely baffled. There was absolutely nothing stirring in the running line. With considerable loss of time, Dutch managed to pitch considerably with his head, and in only one box outside of the one in which victory came to Richmond, was he in danger. That happened in the second after Burke had hit to deep center for a triple. He tried to score when McComas hit to Carney and was thrown out at the plate, the play resulting in a double.

The seventh opened well enough for the visiting one. Riley, the first up, flied out easily from second to first. Tennant was walked after hitting Dutch mightily. Stage hit to center for three, scoring a run with the first Colts. McComas followed with a tribute toward victory, sinking niftily to center, scoring Mac. In an effort to catch Willie on a fly, Dutch threw too low to Eby and Willie hit to left. He was scored by Carney's drive to left. The game was nearly lost a moment later through stupid work on the bases. Carney was out first when Fred Griffin, doubled to left. But started around the bases and could easily have crossed, but was held on third for some unaccountable reason. So sure was Mattie, who held off Griffin's clutch, that Carney would score that he never tried to make the play at the plate, but threw to second.

They Drop Pair of Games to National League Champions.

MARQUARD IS CALLED ON

He Goes Into Second Contest to Stop Getting of Runs.

New York, August 1.—The Giants won both games from O'Day's Reds today, largely by outpitching attack work. Humphries for Cincinnati and Mullin for the Giants occupied the mound in the first game. Sugars and Randall appeared in the second, but Marquard had to be called on in the eighth to stop the run-getting. Scores:
